READY TO FIGHT FOR A LIVING WAGE?

The San Mateo County Board of Supervisors, led by County Executive John Malbie, continues to dismiss home care providers' work as not valuable. The county's decision to keep us at poverty wages means we are unable to live independently even as our work allows clients to live with dignity at home.

Maltbie has been awarded a cumulative wage increase of 23 percent; yet the last county proposal for home care workers would still leave us at 43 percent below self-sufficiency income.

Home care workers in the Santa Clara and San Francisco region will earn $13-$15 per hour. We need equal pay for equal work in San Mateo County now!

"This is not just about providing a living wage for home care workers. This is about the future of our community. San Mateo County elected leaders need to lead and put our community first."

- Myrna Bravo, In-Home Supportive Services Chapter President
